Carentan, France Is Our Sister City

One of the South Western Kentucky region city's has a French sister city! The city of Carentan, France celebrates South Western Kentucky's Fort Campbell annually. On June 6 every year, the bells toll in Carentan as the city celebrates their liberation in 1944, a feat made possible by the 101st Airborne in World War II. In 2019, Hopkinsville and Carentan became sister cities, further bonding the two cities and celebrating this important moment in history.
